How do we know which software best fits our layout?

Most Clients already have the software selected to match their in-house requirements. Other clients either do not have in-house software, or they don't care which software is used. If the choice of software is left to PCB Express, Inc., we will normally choose software which is less expensive for the client, and yet offers most the advanced features of the more expensive platforms.

How do you estimate our PCB layout and PCB changes?

The way we quote most designs is to review your data and schedule, and then determine how long the project will take. We then multiply that by our standard hourly rate based on software layout used whether it will be in Cadence® OrCAD®, Cadence® Allegro® PCB Editor , Mentor, or PADS layout.

What is your charge?

Our charges will depend upon complexity of circuitry . Normally we charge $20-$30 USD per engineer hour for Design Tool we have. If customer wants on specific Tools , then Customer will have to supply tool to us.

When do you start our project?

Officially, we only start once we have your Purchase Order. Un-officially, we will work with you to meet your schedule. One thing that helps with the schedule is if we can start building your library parts as soon as you accept or approve our bid, even if the schematic is not complete.
